Title: An Eagle In The Snow

The genre is historical, adventure fiction.

This book is about Barney and his mother on a train during World War II. They are joined by a stranger. He tells them a story about his friend and their life story; a story of love, achievement and regret. Can his friend change the course of history for better or for worse?

The main characters in this story are Barney, his mother, a stranger in the same carriage and Billy Byron. My favourite of these is the stranger in the carriage because he gives a sense of mystery to the story because nobody knows who he is.

I love this book because it has historical facts and famous people in. I like the fact that I can relate to Barney because of his relationship with his Grandpa.

I would recommend this book for people who enjoy narrative and historical facts in a book.

This book is suitable for ages 7 and above because it has writing that is easy to read, has a non-linear narrative and an exciting conclusion that has no hints about what it will be throughout the book.

Out of 10 stars, I would give 9 stars because it is an amazing book, but I would prefer to know the stranger's name.
