Arsenic For Tea by Robin Stevens (Murder Most Unladylike Series)

Genre: Mystery/Crime

Arsenic For Tea is a jaw-dropping tale about two school girls who have to solve a murder. The suspect is one of the girls' own family members which complicates how they solve the case. The book shows how the girls (at the last minute) find a new piece of evidence which changes the case entirely.

The two main characters are Daisy Wells and Hazel Wong (the detectives); Mr Curbs (the victim); Bertie (Daisy's brother); Stephen (Bertie's friend); Miss Alston, Aunt Saskia, Uncle Felix and Chapman (the suspects). My favourite character is Hazel because the book is from her point of view and she finds the last clue in the story.

I liked the twists in the book and the fact that I had to keep guessing until the very end; however, I disliked how one of the scenes was very confusing.

I would recommend this book to people who like to be shocked by a book! I think it is suitable for anyone above the age of 10.
