Hatchet by Gary Paulsen.

Genre: Young adult fiction/Adventure/Survival

Hatchet is a book about a boy who learns to survive in the wilderness. The book starts off with a boy named Brian Robeson who is going to see his father who lives in Northern Canada. While on the plane, the pilot starts having a heart attack and Brian doesn't know what to do. The plane ends up crashing in the wilderness, Brian ends up surviving the crash, and now needs to learn how to survive in the wilderness.

I like how Gary Paulsen described everything, seeing everything happen. Another good thing about this book is that it teaches you about survival, and that not everything is easy in the wild. You have to learn how to survive. The only thing I didn't like about the book is the cliff-hanger at the end.

I would recommend this book to either gender from ages 10+.
